Transit link

Taxi or limousine service from the airport is available at a set rate of $53 to/from downtown. There is also a shuttle bus that runs from the airport to hotels in downtown Halifax and back again – $14 for a one-way trip. Unfortunately, it does not stop at the Dalhousie University campus. For a schedule, see http://www.hiaa.ca/images/pdf\_files/Airporter%20Schedule.pdf

Most of downtown is within walking distance from the Dalhousie campus, but for longer trips, check out the Halifax Transit site at <http://www.halifax.ca/metrotransit/>

Local Tourism Links

For a guide to the attractions, nightlife and restaurants in and around Halifax, we recommend you browse the Halifax Visitor Information site at <http://www.halifaxinfo.com/>

EIDC Membership Information

Become a member of the Eco-Industrial Development Council. This non-profit, membership based organization promotes eco-industrial development as fundamental to competitiveness, engaging in outreach, education, advocacy, technical assistance and research. Membership dues are $200 (US) annually. Visit the website at www.eco-industry.org for more details.

Canadian Pollution Prevention Roundtable – June 14-15th, 2006

Now in its 10th year, the Canadian Pollution Prevention Roundtable brings together the strongest pool of Canadian pollution prevention expertise. The CPPR is designed to give recognition for pollution prevention achievements, identify barriers and opportunities to implementing pollution prevention strategies, and identify opportunities for cooperation across Canada and beyond. Between 120 - 150 pollution prevention specialists representing industry, governments and communities from across Canada and the USA attend the CPPRT. The event is organized by the Canadian Centre for Pollution Prevention.

The 2006 CPPRT is being held in Halifax, Nova Scotia on June 14 and 15. To encourage linkages between the EIDC Roundtable and the CPPRT, the Tuesday night reception will offer an opportunity to mingle with delegates of both events. As well, there is a Wednesday morning session at the CPPRT dedicated to EID. For more information or to register for the CPPRT, visit www.c2p2online.com.
